Texas: 4th Best State in

Which to Drive

According to a Wallethub Study, Texas is the 4th Best state for consumers to drive in. Traffic congestion is said to have cost drivers $87 billion in 2018 in the United States. US drivers also spent an average of 97 hours sitting in traffic. For this study, states were compared on 31 things. However, having stated that Texas is the 4th best state to drive in, these were the statistics: Texas was 2nd in access to vehicle but 20th in "cost of ownership and maintenance. Texas is close to the bottom of the barrel, at 41st in "traffic & infrastructure", but 13th in safety.

With all the figuring, we did find out a few interesting things. Texas has the 2nd most car washed per capita than any other state, 2nd only behind California. We also have the 5th lowest gas prices.

The worst state for auto theft is Alaska and the best is Vermont. California has the worst rush hour traffic and Mississippi has the best.

The live-fire training will be ongoing through today, Fort Hood officials said Monday.

The training session is the unit's first field exercise of 2020, according to the unit.
