The Blotter

The Lampasas Police Dept. Blotter for Thursday shows a reported criminal trespass in the 900 block of N. Elm St. at 9:13am, there was a reported harassment in the 800 block of W. 4th St. at 10:43am. The afternoon shows another criminal trespass reported, this time in the 300 block of N. Howe St. at 12:17pm, a child endangerment was reported in the 900 block of S. Broad St. at 2:37pm and an assault by threat was reported in the 300 block of E. 4th St. at 4:51pm. A domestic disturbance was reported in the 100 block of W. 2nd St. at 10:28pm, a suspicious person was reported in the 100 block of W. 1st St. at 11:21pm, and at that same location Charles Lippiatt, 44, of Lampasas was arrested for assault causing bodily injury/family member at 11:50pm.

The Lampasas County Sheriff's Dept. for Thursday shows Lometa with livestock issues. In Kempner there were animal issues, medical calls, reports of suspicious activity, a reported disturbance and a reported trespassing. Out in the county there were medical calls, animal/livestock issues, and civil matters. Deputies went into Cove for a citizen assist.

The Jail Log shows the arrest of Anthony Villarreal, 29, of San Antonio on an out-of-county charge.

(cont'd from front) the trafficking of fentanyl mixed with xylazine. Xylazine, also known as "Tranq," is a powerful sedative that is approved for veterinary use.

Xylazine is FDA-approved for use in animals as a sedative and pain reliever. Xylazine is not safe for use in humans and may result in serious and life-threatening side effects that appear to be similar to those commonly associated with opioid use, making it difficult to distinguish opioid overdoses from xylazine exposure. However, we do not know if side effects from xylazine exposure can be reversed by naloxone. S

Xylazine and fentanyl drug mixtures place users at a higher risk of suffering a fatal drug poisoning. Because xylazine is not an opioid, naloxone (Narcan) does not reverse its effects. Still, experts always recommend administering naloxone if someone might be suffering a drug poisoning. People who inject drug mixtures containing xylazine also can develop severe wounds, including necrosis—the rotting of human tissue—that may lead to amputation.

Routine toxicology screens do not detect xylazine, and additional analytical techniques are required to detect xylazine when it might be involved in illicit drug overdoses, particularly when there are other signs or symptoms of xylazine exposure.

Ford Motor Company Patenting Drones

A story in dronelife.com tell us that Ford Motor Company has filed several recent drone-related patents, including a jump start system using drones to charge Ford vehicles, as well as external jump start battery terminal hookups. Building upon these prior filings, the new patent details multiple drones for use in jump starting future Ford vehicles with dead batteries.

This new patent seeks to deploy the unmanned aircraft to assist motorists who are stranded with a dead battery, and who may lack access to a jump cable or another vehicle.

Ford vehicles would have the ability to transmit a jump start request along with the vehicle's current location, which would be received by one or more drones. Upon navigating to the location, the drones would then open the hood, form a connection with the vehicle's battery, and provide a boost, allowing the motorist to continue their journey.
