Lampasas Day at the Texas Capital

Guess what Monday is - LAMPASAS DAY at the Capitol!

That's right, the House of Representatives is going to commemorate the Sesquicentennial of the City of Lampasas in a resolution (House Resolution 1313 introduced by David Spiller on April 27th), to be considered Monday afternoon around 1pm. And... everyone is invited to attend.

Lampasas residents plan on having a group together in the House gallery which is on the third floor of the capitol on the west side of the building.

It would be great if we have a big turnout of Lampasas residents! The house goes into session at 1 o'clock on Monday, and the resolution will likely be considered sometime between 1:15pm and 1:45pm. The resolution will become part of the permanent written history of Texas and will be included in the House Journal for the 88th Legislature, Regular Session.

If you can't make it or prefer to watch it on the Internet, you can go to <https://house.texas.gov/video-audio/> and click on the 88th Legislative Session link.

Small Business Week

For over 50 years, the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) has organized and hosted National Small Business Week (NSBW) during the first week of May. NSBW recognizes and emphasizes the importance of small businesses in the United States and their contributions to its economic well-being. This year, NSBW will be recognized next week from April 30th – May 6th.

Small business owners often must overcome multiple challenges for continued success and longevity. BBB encourages residents to contribute to their business community by shopping small and shopping locally, but there are also numerous other ways to support small businesses beyond purchasing products or services. This NSBW, show appreciation for the small businesses in your community by following these recommendations from your Better Business Bureau: (1) Shop local. Before buying an item from a major corporation, search your community to determine if a local retailer offers the same thing (2) Go to the source. While there will always be times when delivery is the best option, consumers should try to go directly to the source of purchase (3) Be social. Support small businesses in your community by "liking" them on social media and writing positive reviews (4) Participate in community events. Farmers' markets and community celebrations are a few ways to support small businesses (5) Offer assistance. Be generous and forthcoming with any help you can provide to a small business.

Better Business Bureau hosts a resource center specifically tailored to the needs of small businesses across North America. Consumers can access these resources for free at BBB.org/SmallBusiness.
