Lampasas Ball Teams

Go to Playoffs

Lady Badger Softball kicked off their playoff run last night in the rain. Our girls are up against Burkburnett with last night's first of a best of three series taking place in Brock. It didn't go well for the girls or the fans. It was quite a drive, raining part of the way, and umbrellas were called for. That wasn't the worst part though. The girls' bats were cold, and the final score was 9-3 in favor of Burkburnett. It was 9-2 in the bottom of the 7th inning when things looked dismal anyway...then it started to rain. The game was stopped as umbrellas went up in the bleachers. After a short delay the game started again, but to no avail for our girls and it ended soon.

The girls will, weather permitting, meet Burkburnett in Stephenville Friday evening for game two that, last we heard, was scheduled for 7pm. The game will be broadcast over KCYL 1450AM and KCYL live at LampasasRadio.com.

The Badger Baseball team is still in a holding pattern while other teams from the bi-districts settle their seeding for the playoffs. Coach Chance Evans told us Thursday morning that he had scheduled another warmup game for the boys next Monday, this one at Harker Heights. After that the team will be heading for a mutually agreed on site to play their bi-district opponent. That team is expected to be Burkburnett, the likely third place team in district 5. The game will be played...somewhere northwest of here. And, Coach seems to think it will be a Friday-Saturday series on the 7th and 8th of May.

If you aren't making the trip, and it's to be played, tune in to KACQ FM 101.9 or listen to the stream at lampasasradio.com at the listen live button.

Go Badgers!

Texas School Funding

According to an article in the Texas Tribune, Governor Greg Abbott, Lieutenant Governor Dan Patrick, and Speaker Dade Phelan today announced the release of $11.2 billion in new federal funds to help public schools address student learning loss and costs incurred as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic. Due to federal requirements, two-thirds of the funds are available immediately under grants administered by the Texas Education Agency (TEA), with the final one-third to be distributed contingent upon approval by the U.S. Department of Education.

This funding builds upon the roughly $2.2 billion in federal funding already allocated to Texas to help public schools respond to COVID-19 and comes on the heels of the largest single-year increase in funding for Texas public education in the history of the state. The Texas Legislature passed the transformative legislation House Bill 3 in 2019, and during the 2019-20 school year, state funding for public education increased by more than $5 billion from the year prior.

"The State of Texas is ensuring that our public schools have the necessary resources to help Texas students recover from learning loss related to COVID-19," said Governor Abbott. "Two years ago, the Legislature passed, and I signed historic school finance legislation to ensure education funding was more equitable and that we fund schools in part on their ability to ensure students are ready for higher education or a career. To ensure this pandemic does not become a generational education crisis, we expect, and students deserve, for this funding to be used to remediate the progress lost due to the pandemic. This will ensure that Texas students will be ready to fill the jobs created in and attracted to this state."

Deputies went into Cove on reports of suspicious activity, civil matters, an accident, animal issues and medical calls.

The Burn Ban is lifted until May 7th

"Throughout the challenges of the pandemic over the last year, I have worked to ensure the state maintains the funding commitment we made to our schools in HB3 in 2019, including teacher pay raises and the school finance reforms. These additional federal funds now will allow educators to help our students recover from the negative impact of long months out of the classroom. My goal is to ensure that Texas schools — like the rest of our state — come back stronger than ever," said Lt. Governor Patrick.

More funds for Texas public schools will be coming soon. As part of the Coronavirus Response and Relief Supplemental Appropriation (CRRSA) Act, Texas was allotted more than $5 billion in funds for public education. However, both CRRSA and other legislation passed by Congress came with significant strings attached. As the Texas Education Agency is working through these issues with the Department of Education, the State will continue to support school districts as they have over the past year. That includes holding the districts harmless for decreases in enrollment, funding learning devices through Operation Connectivity, and reimbursing school districts for their COVID-19 related costs during the spring 2020 semester.

Governor Abbott, Lieutenant Governor Patrick, Speaker Phelan, Senators Jane Nelson and Larry Taylor, and Representatives Greg Bonnen and Harold Dutton will continue to work alongside the TEA to ensure that all outstanding questions on CRRSA funds are resolved by the end of the 87th Legislative Session so schools have clarity on the final round of supplemental funds they will receive.
