1 in 3 Vehicle Deaths Due to Speed

Last year the number of people killed in vehicle crashes in Texas reached a level not seen since 1981, and 34% of those deaths involved speed. In 2021, speed was the main reason we saw 163,756 traffic crashes in Texas, resulting in 6,493 serious injuries and 1,532 fatalities. That's why TxDOT's "Be Safe. Drive Smart." campaign is urgently reminding motorists to slow down and drive a safe speed.

"Speed is the number one factor in roadway crashes in our state, causing 1 out of every 3 traffic deaths," said TxDOT Executive Director Marc Williams. "When you speed, you increase the risk of death and serious injury in a collision. By observing the speed limit and driving to specific weather and road conditions, Texans can make our roads safer for everyone."

To reinforce that driving too fast can be dangerous and expensive, TxDOT is partnering with law enforcement agencies across the Lone Star State as they step up their efforts to enforce speed limits during Operation Slowdown June 7-21. In addition to writing citations, law enforcement vehicles will spend extra time driving on roads reminding motorists what a safe speed looks like.

Driving a safe speed often means more than following the posted speed limit. TxDOT has these safety tips for motorists:

*Match your speed to road conditions if there's bad weather or you're driving through a work zone.

*Slow down and allow for more distance to stop when traffic is heavy.

*Watch for signs alerting you of reduced speed limits ahead.

This month Texas drivers can expect to see the campaign's speed messages on TV, radio, billboards, gas pumps, and social media. Community events featuring an interactive exhibit of safety quizzes and video displays will be held at Buc-ee's locations along major travel corridors. TxDOT's HERO trucks that assist motorists in need and clear minor crashes on state highways will also be enlisted to prompt speeding drivers to slow down.

There was a noise complaint in the 500 block of Old Georgetown Rd. at 6:14pm.

Lampasas County Sheriff's Dept. Blotter for Friday shows Lometa with animal issues. In Kempner, there were reports of suspicious activity, civil matters, a fish & game call, medical calls and an accident. Out in the county there were medical calls, reports of suspicious activity, requested welfare checks, civil matters, a report of disorderly conduct and livestock issues. Legislative Committee on School Shooting

A story in the Texas Tribune tells us that Texas House Speaker Dade Phelan on Friday announced the creation of a legislative committee to investigate the Uvalde shooting.

"The fact we still do not have an accurate picture of what exactly happened in Uvalde is an outrage," the Beaumont Republican said in a statement announcing the committee. "Every day, we receive new information that conflicts with previous reports, making it not only difficult for authorities to figure out next steps, but for the grieving families of the victims to receive closure. I established this investigative committee for the dedicated purpose of gathering as much information and evidence as possible to help inform the House's response to this tragedy and deliver desperately needed answers to the people of Uvalde and the State of Texas."

The three-person investigative committee will have subpoena power for its investigation and will be led by state Rep. Dustin Burrows, a Lubbock Republican who is an attorney. El Paso Democrat Joe Moody, a former prosecutor, will serve as the committee's vice chair. Former Supreme Court Justice Eva Guzman, who recently lost a bid to become the Republican nominee for attorney general, will also be a member of the panel.

The speaker's latest announcement comes days after he voiced his support for ending the "dead suspect loophole" in Texas public records laws, which could impede the public's ability to get answers about the police response to the shooting. Law enforcement agencies often use a statute in the law to shield from public release records related to incidents that don't lead to a conviction, including in cases in which the suspect dies before a chance to prosecute.

"It's time we pass legislation to end the dead suspect loophole for good in 2023," he said on social media on Wednesday.

Happy Belated Birthday

*Patty Oldham-73
June 3rd*

In addition, Phelan has asked representatives from the areas of each of the major mass shootings that have rocked the state in recent years to join the Select Committee on Youth Health and Safety, which will be looking into Gov. Greg Abbott's call for a response to the Uvalde shooting along with the House Homeland Security and Public Safety Committee. Those committees will look into school safety, mental health, social media's role in mass violence events, police training and firearm safety.

Phelan said the investigative committee will have power of depositions and will be allowed to initiate discovery. That power could play a key role as initial statements by law enforcement about the shooting have proven inaccurate and state officials have said the police chief responding to the shooting has stopped responding to Texas Rangers investigating the incident. Pete Arredondo, the police chief for the Uvalde Consolidated Independent School District who led the response, has contradicted those statements, saying he is in communication with authorities.
