Move Over Slow Down!

Sgt. Bryan Washko of Texas
DPS shares the following with Lampasas Radio: "Texas DPS

Troopers were dispatched to a major crash between three vehicles and a pedestrian. A Tow Truck Operator, David Isaac Simmons, 35 years old, of Fairfield, Texas, was attempting to pull a disabled vehicle in the center median with emergency lights activated on his 2020 Freightliner tow truck. A 2020 Toyota Corolla, operated by a 22 year-old female from Houston Texas, was traveling on the inside lane towards the tow truck. The Toyota moved over to the outside lane and changed lanes when unsafe. The Toyota collided into a 2014 Volvo sedan, operated by a 33 year-old female from Dallas, Texas. After crashing into the Volvo, the Toyota crossed back onto the inside lane, drove up the rollback which was extended, and became airborne. The Toyota crashed into Simmons as he was utilizing his control box, on the driver's side. Simmons was transported to Hillcrest Medical Center, Waco. Simmons later succumbed to his injuries. Justice of the Peace, Dianne Hensley pronounced Simmons deceased at 1:25 P.M. on May 30th, 2021. Crash investigation is still active and open."

Texas DPS would like to remind motorists to always make sure its clear when changing lanes. Taking a second look and making sure the path is clear will greatly reduce the probability of being involved in a traffic crash.

Vehicle Shortages Ease

According to an article in the New York Times, General Motors will increase production of cars and trucks as the chip shortage eases.

General Motors said Thursday that it expected to increase shipments of pickup trucks and other vehicles to dealers over the next several weeks, a sign that the global shortage of computer chips is beginning to ease.

GM's financial results in the first half of the year would be "significantly better" than it had previously forecast, the automaker said in a statement. The company had blamed the chip shortage for forcing it to idle several plants for weeks at a time.

GM said it planned to increase production of its heavy-duty pickups at a plant in Flint, Mich., next month. It said output would rise by about 1,000 trucks per month. Other factories will forego usual vacation closures this summer to make up for some of the production lost earlier this year.

The company also expects to ship to dealers a batch of about 30,000 midsize pickups from a plant in Wentzville, Mo. These trucks that had been assembled without certain electronic components and had been kept at the plant until the missing parts arrived.

Other automakers have also been slowed by the chip shortage. Ford Motor has said it expects to make half as many cars in the second quarter as it originally planned.
