ERCOT and the Power Grid

For the second time this week, the state's power grid operator asked Texans to turn up their thermostats to 78 degrees and to avoid using large appliances as it expected record-high demand for power amid ongoing scorching temperatures. It was asking for conservation from 2 to 9 p.m. Wednesday.

A spokesperson for the Electric Reliability Council of Texas, the state's main power grid operator, said he did not expect rolling blackouts to happen Wednesday.

The call for conservation came because of higher-than-expected outages at coal and natural gas-fired power plants, as well as low winds, as demand continues to rise because (cont'd on back)

The Blotter

The Lampasas Police blotter for Wednesday shows a report of a suspicious person in the 500 block of E. North Ave. at 12am. There was a minor accident in the 900 block of S. Key Ave. at 9:53am, and a disorderly conduct in the 700 block of Brown St. at 10:30am. The afternoon shows a criminal mischief reported in the 1000 block of Cloud St. At 2:19pm, a theft was reported in the 800 block of N. Key Ave. at 2:30pm and another theft was reported in the 300 block of S. Summer St. at 3:35pm. There was a reported domestic disturbance in the 900 block of Ridge St. at 6:40pm. At 7:31pm in the 1400 block of S. Key Ave., Amanda Satterfield, 28, of Lampasas was arrested on a Lampasas County warrant for failure to appear (fleeing a police officer). Also arrested at that time and location was Travis Becker, 36, of Kempner for assault by contact/family violence. At 8:48pm, Elliot Pope, 26, was arrested in the 300 block of N. Hackberry for assault of a public servant x2.

The Lampasas County Sheriff's Blotter shows Lometa with an alarm call. In Kempner there were animal issues, civil matters, and a reported assault. Out in the county there were livestock/animal issues, medical calls, a reported theft, civil matters, and accident, and a burglary. Deputies went into Cove on civil matters.

The Jail Log shows the arrest of 26 year old Esidro Arce of Kingsland for failure to appear.

(cont'd from front) of higher-than-normal temperatures.

"The fleet has been run extremely hard this year and especially this summer, so it's not surprising that wear-and-tear is starting to bear out in the form of components breaking," said Michele Richmond, executive director of the Texas Competitive Power Advocates, which represents power generators.

Solar power, which has performed well this summer, was also struggling Wednesday to produce as much electricity as expected, ERCOT said, because of some dark clouds over solar farms in West Texas.

When Texans were asked Monday to conserve electricity, ERCOT said that appeal reduced demand on the power grid by 500 megawatts during the afternoon. ERCOT did not come close to implementing rolling blackouts.

Power grids must keep supply and demand in balance at all times. When Texas' grid falls below its safety margin of excess supply, the grid operator starts taking additional precautions to avoid blackouts.

There has been no request at this time for conservation for today.

Texas Democratic Party and Possible New Leadership

Texas Democratic Party chair Gilberto Hinojosa is facing two challengers for reelection at the party's convention this weekend, a race that is serving as a referendum on Democrats' pace of progress in a still-red state.

Hinojosa has held the job for a decade, but his opponents, Kim Olson and Carroll G. Robinson, argue it is a time for a change, especially after the disappointing 2020 election. Hinojosa says he has expanded the party immensely since he took over in 2012, placing it on the cusp of statewide victory in November. "The margins that we have gone from when I took over to where we're at now have got us in a trajectory of flipping the state within a very short period of time, including this election cycle," Hinojosa said.

But Hinojosa's critics say they are tired of moral victories and promises that a major breakthrough is near.

"We need to win, and losing and pretending to win doesn't help the people we say we represent as Democrats in the state," said Robinson, chair of the Texas Coalition of Black Democrats. Hinojosa's fate will be decided by the thousands of delegates gathering in Dallas for the biennial convention, which runs Thursday through Saturday. In addition to electing party leadership, delegates will also update their platform and hear speeches from dozens of elected officials, candidates and activists. The lineup includes national party chair Jaime Harrison and the statewide slate, led by gubernatorial contender Beto O'Rourke.
