Red Flag Warning Issued

The National Weather Service has issued a Red Flag Warning for Lampasas County from 10am-9pm today. Lampasas County is expected to experience critical fire danger this afternoon with temperatures expected to reach 102-107 degrees, east winds gusting to 25 mph and a relative humidity of 23-30%. Not to mention how dry all the grasses and trees are. No outdoor burning of any kind is permitted during a red flag warning.

According to the Texas A & M Forest Service, as the tropical depression moves across South Texas, a tightening pressure gradient between the depression and the upper-level ridge over the central United States will increase wind speeds and result in critical fire weather. Critical fire weather aligned with widespread critically to extremely dry fuels will result in high significant fire potential today and tomorrow for Central Texas. A Fuels and Fire Behavior Advisory has been issued for Central Texas. It has been 51 days since the Lampasas Airport recorded any measurable rain.
