Commissioner Court Called Meeting

The Lampasas County Commissioners' Court will have a called meeting on Monday, August 29th at 9am in the Commissioner's Courtroom in the Lampasas County Courthouse.

Higher Beef Costs

Higher operating costs for cattle ranchers trickle down to consumers

More expensive fertilizer, fewer cows being slaughtered, and a nationwide drought all driving up costs Spending more at the grocery store nowadays is unavoidable. The increase in everyday items now includes beef as distributors are facing tough decisions amid a nationwide drought.

The lack of rain could be to blame for a multitude of tough decisions cattle ranchers are facing. Now, those decisions are trickling down to the consumer level, leaving everyday people to pay the difference if they want their favorite steak dinner. "This too shall pass. We'll get through it," said Jon Taggart with Burgundy Pasture Beef in Fort Worth.

Beef sales have seen a price increase of 7.5 percent since this time last year. The price surge stems from high operation costs, lack of rain, and the diminishing number of cattle reaching the slaughterhouse. Ranchers dealing with the increase in cost aren't alone anymore as grocery stores are having to mark up beef prices because of supply issues.

Experts say beef prices could soon reach a high only seen during the pandemic in 2020. That means that a filet mignon that costs $14 per pound will soon cost $18 per pound.

The reason for that being the cost of cow maintenance has risen drastically causing ranchers to sell their cows to breeders rather than keep them for meat distribution. "Those females are bought as breeding stock so they're taking out of it which a portion of that would've gone into the beef chain," said Taggart.

Along with selling cows to reduce maintenance costs, the lack of rain is causing ranchers to supplement natural pasture growth with expensive fertilizers, snowballing into a higher consumer price for that cut of beef tips. Heading into the future, beef prices could rise again before the month is over.

Meat distributors say the nationwide droughts and heightened operating costs could keep supplies tight for at least a couple years.

Badger Sports

Badger Cross Country

Yesterday the cross country team competed in the Belton Invitational.

Awards are as follows:

Varsity Boys placed fourth overall. They were led by Clayton Shaw, who placed 9th, and was closely followed by Ben Stone and Juan Rodriguez.

Varsity Girls placed sixth overall. They were led by Nyla Long, who placed 8th, and was closely followed by Becca Nobles and Tate Brown.

JV Boys won their division! They were led by Kent Ashley, who placed 1st, Parker Boykin, who placed 3rd, and Seth Kachel who placed 5th in the 1A-4A Division.

The JV Girls ran a great race and were led by Leah Phillips, who placed 2nd in her division.

We will be running in Lago Vista next Saturday, September 3rd.

Badger Tennis

The tennis team traveled to Ellison yesterday to take on the Eagles. The doubles teams had another fantastic start. We only lost one doubles match. The boys are off to their best doubles start in many years. They are 9-0.

With a 6-1 lead after doubles I thought it was going to be a decisive win, but Ellison came back in singles and took all but one of the girls singles matches. The boys took 4 of the 6 matches.

We defeated Ellison 11-8 today. Giving us a 3-0 start to the year.
