State Sales Tax Revenue

Texas Comptroller Glenn Hegar today said state sales tax revenue totaled $3.15 billion in September, 22.3 percent more than in September 2020. The majority of September sales tax revenue is based on sales made in August and remitted to the agency in September.

Year-over-year increases for most tax revenues continue to be affected by base effects: Year-ago revenue collections to which this year's collections are compared were suppressed by the pandemic. Compared to September 2019, sales tax collections were up 14.8 percent.

"Despite continuing shortages of building materials, chemicals, semiconductors and other critical inputs due to weather and pandemic-induced supply chain disruptions, receipts from the construction, manufacturing, and wholesale trade sectors rose sharply. Collections from the oil- and gas-mining sector almost doubled from a year ago, as drilling activity continued to rise while still remaining substantially below pre-pandemic levels.

"Within the retail trade sector, rapid growth continued in receipts from big-box retailers, which grew strongly during last year's shut-down period, while receipts from mall-based department stores grew moderately. Among more specialized retailers, the fastest growth in receipts was from clothing stores and electronics and appliance stores, as has been the case in recent months. Receipts from online general merchandisers continued to grow moderately from last year's elevated levels. As a portion of alcoholic beverage consumption has shifted back to on-premise consumption at bars and restaurants since the lifting of pandemic restrictions, receipts from food and beverage stores have ceased to grow, though they remain above pre-pandemic levels."

Total sales tax revenue for the three months ending in September 2021 was up 17.8 percent compared to the same period a year ago, and 14.9 percent compared to 2019. Sales tax is the largest source of state funding for the state budget, accounting for 59 percent of all tax collections.

Texans like 'em Big!

And that includes everything from chicken
- fried steaks to pickup trucks...and even stars.

So we Texans are really lovin' our night skies lately. Did you see the size of that big yellow-orange Harvest Moon the other night? It was huge, and it came right on time, just before Equinox when the nights started getting gradually longer than the day.

And the next spectacle when the planets Jupiter (the biggest of all) and Venus (the brightest) started to come out together in the early evening and light up the night sky. Jupiter comes out first. With a pretty good telescope you'd be able to see that the big boy has multiple moons orbiting around it. A little later in the dusk, Venus shows up. Not quite as big, but still the next biggest show in the sky.

There are lots of big events in the night sky coming in October- dazzling meteor showers. Start looking up!

Tools for Texans

September has come to a close and while we welcome the cooler weather across Texas, the start of fall marks a new season of opportunity. In September, we celebrated Labor Day, an occasion to recognize the world class workforce we have here in Texas. Texas workers are the backbone of our economy and the foundation of our state. Our state's population is booming because Texas has built a sturdy economic engine, one that attracts new residents and drives population growth every day. With this growth comes opportunity for all Texans to succeed.

When someone says free, we usually wonder what's the catch? But you heard it from us first, there is no catch. In further support of our mission to connect all Texas workers with a job, this month TWC announced a new tool in our toolbox of programs to aid workers. As you may know, the service industry has been hit especially hard throughout the past year and a half, and TWC is here to get our hospitality and service industry colleagues back to work and arm them with the tools needed to do so. We've launched the Service Industry Recovery program, which uses federal COVID-relief funds to provide an extra focus on workers in the service industry. This new program provides 12 months of a free child care scholarship to low-income parents who are employed in the service industry. Texans across the state working in arts, entertainment and recreation, accommodations, food services and retail trade can contact their local Workforce Solutions office to learn more and apply for this program. As our latest labor market data shows, Texas has jobs, and we're here to ensure the workforce has the tools they need to get them.

Badger Sports

Lampasas Middle School Football

7th Grade B-Team won 26-0. Coaches report; The Lampasas Middle School 7th grade football B team dominated their Fredericksburg counterparts 26-0 in Fredericksburg. The game was total domination on both sides of the ball. Vincent Shahan found the endzone for the second consecutive week, outrunning the Battlin' Billie secondary on a catch-and-run of nearly sixty yards. The Badger defense was once again dominant. The Lampasas defense consistently beat the Billie offensive line in the trenches and found itself in the Fredericksburg backfield play after play.

7th Grade A-Team beat Fredericksburg 30-22. Coaches report: The 7th grade A team traveled down to Fredericksburg to take on the Billies. The Badgers came away victorious by a score of 30-22. It was a tale of two halves for the Badgers. They came out in the first half and put on a dominant performance, jumping out to a 24-0 lead at halftime. The offense was firing on all cylinders. Tripp Stinnett led the way throwing for over 200 yards and three touchdowns. The second half was a different story for the Badgers though. Penalties and turnovers were very costly and allowed the Billies right back in the game. Our special teams' units which have been a strength all year stepped up when we needed them the most and Ty Johnson returned a kickoff 60 yards for a touchdown to help seal the game.

8th Grade B-Team lost to Fredericksburg 6-12. Coaches Report: The Lampasas 8th grade B team lost a heartbreaking game Thursday night to the Fredericksburg Billies. Fredericksburg struck gold in the first quarter, however, the Badgers responded by shutting out the Billies on their next two drives!. On the other side of the ball, the Badger offense never showed any quit.!!

The 8th grade A team beat Fredericksburg 27-6. Coaches Report: The 8th grade A-Team played an amazing game. The whole 8th Grade A-Team stepped up in a major way having to overcome major adversity in the first quarter. They all stayed focused and kept their head in the game and came away with their best game yet. Every single player stayed positive all game, never getting down on one another.
