Suspicious vehicles were reported, one in the 100 block of EE Ohnmeiss Dr. at 10:18pm, another in the 100 block of EE Ohnmeiss Dr. at 10:20pm, and one in the 2300 block of 580W at 10:38pm.

In Kempner there were animal/livestock issues, reported disturbances, a noise complaint, and an accident. Out in the county there were reported disturbances, a mental health call, livestock/animal issues, reported threats, a report of an abandoned vehicle, medical calls, and a requested welfare check. Deputies went into Cove on livestock issues, and medical calls.

Christmas Tree Farms in Texas

The Christmas tree business is merry and bright, with farms specializing in the traditional holiday decoration reporting brisk sales. Stan Reed, Executive Secretary for the Texas Christmas Tree Growers Association, said Christmas tree farms across the state have been busy. "A lot of them will be sold out of the choose-and-cut trees this weekend," he said. "Right now, everybody seems to be doing well." Reed said the impact from this year's drought was concentrated mostly on seedlings. This year's crop of mature Christmas trees was spared major effects, he said, though some trees might not have reached the usual height.

"Prices of pre-cut trees that came from out-of-state probably went up because of transportation costs," Reed said. "But choose-and-cut trees didn't go up in price this year." Consumers could expect to see price increases next year because of the rising cost of fertilizer, Reed said.

Fred Raley, Texas A&M Forest Service Tree Improvement Coordinator and Director of the Western Gulf Tree Improvement Program, said the most popular Christmas tree species in Texas is Virginia pine because it grows well throughout the state. But other species have been gaining attention.

"Afghan pines grow well in Central Texas, and that's the area from where most of the increased consumer interest has come," he said.

"For many families, there is nothing like choosing your own tree and having the smell and feel of a live Christmas tree," Raley said.

"It's part of a Rockwellian view of a family Christmas that many people seem to be wanting to continue or recapture."

And that, in turn, benefits the state economy. In 2020, the Christmas tree industry generated more than $800 million and supported nearly 7,000 jobs with a payroll of $260 million, according to a Texas A&M Forest Service study.

The Lady Badger Varsity Basketball team is now 15-6 on the season. The Ladies host Taylor tomorrow night at Lampasas High School.

Badger Basketball lost to Bastrop 59-56 Saturday to end the Salado Tournament. Coach Nuckles said that things are taking shape with the team, but they are looking for more consistency. The Badger Varsity Boys are now 4-5 on the season.
