

The Weather

High yesterday was 58° Low this morning was 38°

The powers that be tell us that since there is no big push of dry air behind the system that brought us the rain yesterday, patchy fog and drizzle will remain much of the morning. Look for some gradual clearing from West to East this afternoon. Don't expect to see much sun as it will remain mostly cloudy and seasonably cool today. Tomorrow should be a bit warmer due to some afternoon sun. Look for the low 70's on Christmas Day.

Today: Patchy fog until about noon, then mostly sunny with a high temperature near 59°. The winds will be W at 5-10mph becoming N in the afternoon.

Tonight: Partly cloudy with a low near 31°. N-NE breezes at 5 mph. Some patchy fog is possible early tomorrow morning.

Sunday: Patchy fog is possible in the morning, then sunny with a high near 62°. N-NW wind near 5 mph becoming calm in the afternoon.

Sunday night: Clear with a low near 34° and calm wind becoming light SW. .

Monday: Sunny with W-SW wind at 5 mph becoming S-SE in the afternoon. The high temperature should be near 70°.

Monday night: Mostly clear with a S-SE wind shifting SW after midnight. The low temperature will be near 36°
