Early Voting Down to the Last Day – Last Chance

Another 201 voters came in to cast ballots at the Elections Office on Thursday, and the mail had seen another 15 ballots by mail delivered to the office.

That brings the total Early Vote to 1810 with this last day expected to bring in another 200 or more ballots.

You can cast your ballot today until 5pm today at the Elections Office at 407 S. Pecan on Courtyard Square, downtown. You must have your Voter Registration Card and your photo ID. If you don't have a photo ID such as a Texas Driver License, you could have a Texas Election ID issued by the DPS or a Texas personal ID issued by the DPS, a Texas Handgun License issued by the DPS, a US Military ID card with a photo, a US Citizenship Certificate with a photo or a US Passport book or card. If you don't have any of the above...there is a special form you can fill out along with other suitable and convincing ID. There is little excuse for not voting if you are a registered voter.

If you do not have transportation to the polling place, you can call the radio station at 512-556-6193 and we will help you with a ride to and from the polls.

If you are a legally registered voter and attempt to vote but for some reason unable to, please contact Lampasas Radio at our office at 505 N. Key. Perhaps we can help. At least, we'd like to know about it.

If you don't get to the polling place to vote early today, wait until next Tuesday, March 6. That is regular Election Day and the polling places will be open for the Regular Election Day voting.

County Commissioners To Meet On Monday

The agenda for the 9am Monday, March 5: Lampasas County Commissioners meeting shows Commissioners considering the awarding of a contract to build the new jail and Law Enforcement Center on the south edge of Lampasas.

They will also consider an action to issue tax bonds to pay for the construction. Because they are tax bonds, the court will also have to consider an action to create an additional property tax on local property owners in order to pay for that construction..
